Eastbourne Borough Council leader Councillor Steve Reed has revealed that a private developer has offered the city's Pool car park to house a specialist football club's reserves team in the run up to the 2020 football season. The offer was made to Eastbourne Borough Council at a cabinet meeting on Wednesday, May 1, in an attempt to guarantee the future of the club's reserve team after it was left without a home after the club's usual home of The New Pool was closed by East Sussex County Council for an eight month period in order to expand the pool. However, in an announcement on the council's website, Cllr Reed has said that the council is not currently planning to accept the offer, stating that the council can't guarantee a financial return or have any oversight over the new owners. Cllr Reed said: "We received an offer for The Pool, a suitable site for a football club that would not break the tenancy agreement with Eastbourne Borough Council. "The council would not accept it, as our position was we can't guarantee a financial return, and any new ownership would not have any oversight over our running the football club." a1d647c40b
